Who we are

Egyptian Consulting & Innovation Firm — MENA Region

Empowering People.
Transforming Systems.
Shaping the Future.

TAGHEER for Digital Transformation and Consulting is a multidisciplinary consulting firm specializing in programme evaluation, organizational development, digital transformation, and evidence-based policy advisory services. We work with international development partners, civil society organizations, and public institutions to strengthen systems, enhance institutional performance, and generate actionable insights that drive sustainable impact.

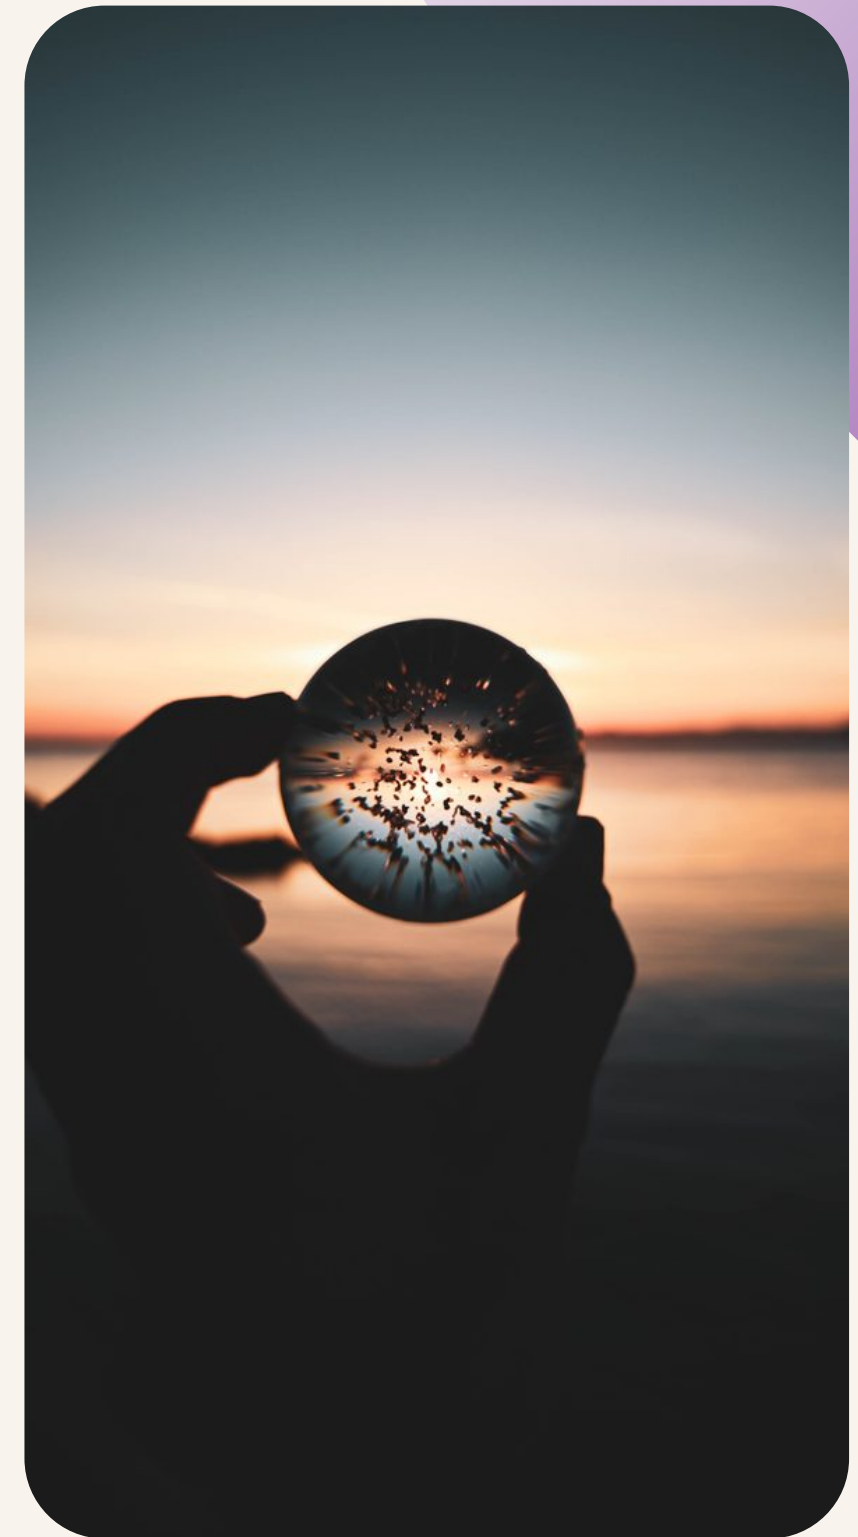

We combine technical rigor with participatory and human-centered approaches to support organizations in designing, implementing, and evaluating complex development interventions across governance, gender equality, social protection, and community development sectors.

Our Vision

To help shape a more inclusive, innovative, and sustainable future for the Middle East—where ideas, people, and systems evolve together to unlock the region's full potential.

We envision a future where transformation is not only technological, but deeply human—where learning empowers change, where systems are designed to serve people first, and where evidence and imagination work hand in hand to solve complex challenges.

Rooted in the richness and diversity of the region, we aspire to contribute to a Middle East that leads with creativity, resilience, and purpose—building pathways of progress that are shared, lasting, and truly transformative.

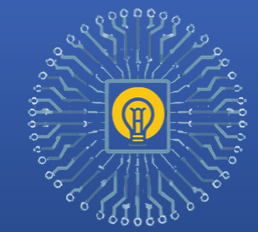

Our Services

We collaborate with organizations across the Middle East to drive meaningful transformation, turning visions into real-world impacts. Our services include digital transformation advisory, helping institutions adapt to the digital age; development and program evaluation to enhance decision-making; strategy and foresight to prepare for future challenges; systems thinking and design to address root causes efficiently; and capacity building programs to empower individuals and strengthen institutional capabilities.

Our Mission

We exist to catalyze meaningful transformation across the Middle East by helping institutions, communities, and decision-makers turn ambition into lasting impact.

We work to bridge insight and action—bringing clarity to complexity, and aligning people, knowledge, and systems around shared goals for progress. Through collaboration and deep contextual understanding, we support the design of solutions that are inclusive, forward-looking, and grounded in real needs.

At the heart of our mission is a belief in the region's potential: to learn, adapt, and lead. We are committed to strengthening the foundations of change—so that development is not only achieved, but sustained and owned by the people it serves.

Our Expertise & Solutions

Methodologies

Human-Centered Design

User research, journey mapping, and rapid prototyping to design solutions that truly serve people and communities across the MENA region.

Systems Thinking & Innovation

Systems mapping and institutional reform approaches that address complexity and drive sustainable, large-scale transformation.

Digital Innovation

AI readiness assessments, data-driven decision making, and digital transformation strategies tailored to Egypt and MENA contexts.

Strategic Foresight

Scenario planning and horizon scanning to build future-ready strategies, combining innovation with deep regional knowledge.

Our Experience

Our journey is shaped by the deep expertise and diverse experience of our founder, Dr. Mohammad Issa, and a multidisciplinary team committed to driving meaningful change across the Middle East.

Over the years, this experience has been built through engagement with governments, development partners, and institutions across sectors—working on complex challenges in digital transformation, program evaluation, policy design, and institutional development.

We bring together academic insight and practical field experience, combining strategic thinking with hands-on implementation. This foundation allows us to understand both the big picture and the operational realities that shape development efforts in the region.

At the core of our experience is a shared commitment to learning from practice, adapting to context, and continuously improving how change is designed and delivered.

"Through collaborative co-creation and human-centered facilitation, TAGHEER has empowered communities and institutions across Egypt and the MENA region to design solutions that are resilient, inclusive, and future-ready."
